

PROPOSAL FOR ELECTIVE DIDACTIC ACTIVITIES (ADE) A.A. 2020-2021

TITLE ADE	Rhinoplasty: from reconstructive to restorative surgery of the nose
PROF./ DR.	Raffaele Rauso
SSD	MED29
GENERAL AND SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES (MAX 500 CHARACTERS)	The nose is a three-dimensional anatomical structure that plays not only a respiratory function but also characterize features of the face. Nose can be affected by congenital deformities that can lead to respiratory problems (e.g., deviation of the nasal septum), malformative pathology (for example in patients affected simultaneously by cleft lip and nasal deformity) or acquired as a result of surgical procedures for oncological reason or as an outcome of facial trauma. The aim of this ADE is to provide students accurate nose anatomy concepts and the main surgical indication to solve nasal deformities both congenital and acquired.
